13 BODIES ARE RECOVERED FROM DRIFT WORKINGS

ACCIDENT HAPPENED AT COAL MINE AT YUKON, WEST VIRGINIA

EXPLOSION CAME AT A TIME WHEN SMALL SHIFT WAS WORKING

(By United Press)

Since Saturday upwards of 225 men have been killed in three coal mine disasters in Pennsylvania, Kentucky and West Virginia.

While rescue crews today were bringing out the last of the bodies of the 196 men killed by an explosion Saturday in the Mather Collieries Company's mine at Mather, Pa., 17 men were trapped by an explosion in the Yukon-Pocohontas mine number one at Yukon, W. Va. Thirteen bodies have been recovered.

An explosion in the Black Mountain Coal Corporation's mine at Kinver, Ky., last night entombed 75 workers. Sixty of them escaped, seven bodies were recovered and eight men still were missing.

Charleston, W. Va., May 23.—(UP)—Seventeen miners were killed in a gas explosion last night in No. 1 mine of the Yukon-Pocohontas Coal Company at Yukon, W. Va. R. M. Lambie, chief of the West Virginia bureau of mines, said today.

Thirteen bodies have been recovered from the drift workings, Lambie said. Four bodies remain in the mine.

Only seventeen men were in the mine when the gas explosion occurred, according to Lambie.

The mine ordinarily employs 350 men, but recently has not been running at full capacity and the explosion came at a time when a small shift was on duty.

Bluefield, W. Va., May 23.—Unconfirmed reports received here today said 17 miners were killed last night in an explosion in No. 1 mine of the Yukon-Pocohontas Coal Company at Yukon, 18 miles from Iager, W. Va.

Meager reports, also unconfirmed, said 13 bodies had been taken from the mine.

60 TRAPPED MINERS RESCUED SAFELY

Kinver, Ky., May 23.—Sixty miners, trapped by a gas explosion in Mine No. 39 of the Black Mountain Coal Corporation, were brought to the surface here today uninjured.

Seven bodies have been recovered from the shaft of the mine. Officials said they believed there were only eight others missing.

The eight missing miners, officials said, probably are dead.

The identified dead: Elmer Leach, Sam Edwards, Lewis Fagerty, Asher Hall, night foreman; Frank Higgins, Fred Quintrel and Frank Chow, chief electrician.

Rescue squads worked in relays, removing debris from the mine, seeking the missing miners, believed to be trapped behind the fallen shaft timbers.

The explosion occurred as the night shift was relieving the day crew. A majority of the miners were in the main shaft or they all would have been killed, officials said.

GREWSOME WORK REMOVING BODIES

Mather, Pa., May 23.—The gruesome work of removing the charred bodies of the victims of the Mather mine explosion went ahead today, the toll of known dead mounting steadily.

Only fourteen miners, of the 210 who were trapped in the explosion Saturday night, remained alive today.

Removal of 63 bodies from the shaft during the night raised to 155 the number of bodies recovered.

SMALL BIPLANE LANDED BY MEANS OF A PARACHUTE

NO INJURY TO ITS PILOT OR DAMAGE TO THE LITTLE PLANE

EXPERIMENT PERFORMED PRIVATELY NEAR TRACY, CALIFORNIA

Tracy, Cal., May 23.—(UP)—A small biplane has been landed safely from 2,000 feet by means of a huge parachute without injury to its pilot or damage to the plane.

The experiment, performed privately here, was designed to prove the possibility of using a parachute for disabled planes to insure safety of passengers.

A Jenny biplane, piloted by A. J. McKeon was used in the test.

The plane dropped about 2,000 feet, with its motor idle, when the huge parachute, more than 100 feet in diameter, opened out.

McKeon stayed with the ship as its speed rapidly slackened. He said he felt only a slight jar when the plane landed and the folds of the parachute enveloped him.

The biplane was not damaged except for a minor bend in the tail skid.

The parachute is the invention of Charles Roderick, San Francisco who with numerous other airmen expressed complete satisfaction over the result of the experiment.

Coolidge Today Vetoes For Second Time in Two Years McNary-Haugen Farm Relief Bill

NO CHANCE OF PASSING BILL OVER HIS VETO

SUCH ACTION WOULD HAVE TO COME FIRST IN THE SENATE

VOTES TO OVERRIDE VETO ARE LACKING IN THE HOUSE

Washington, May 23.—(UP)—President Coolidge today vetoed for the second time within two years the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill designed to aid stabilization of the agricultural industry.

No chance of passing the bill over the veto is seen now.

Action would have to come first in the senate, since that body passed the bill first, but the legislative jam would offer a justifiable excuse to lay the bill aside.

On passage originally the senate showed sufficient strength to pass the measure over a veto, but the votes are lacking in the house, according to the roll call there on the measure.

The bill sets up a federal farm board, appointed by the president, which is to supervise surplus operations. For surplus operations, a $400,000,000 revolving fund is provided, half allocated to a loan fund, the other half to equalization fee operations.

If loans to co-operatives do not take care of a surplus, then the federal farm board may operate with the equalization fee, but it cannot start operations with any commodity until the commodity council approves. The board determines the price in this country and then assesses an equalization fee against farmers to cover losses in the surplus operations.

In his veto message accompanying the bill to congress, the president pointed out the following objections to the measure:

Its attempted price-fixing policy.

The tax characteristics of the equalization fee.

The widespread bureaucracy which it would set up.

Its encouragement to profiteering and wasteful distribution by middlemen.

Its stimulation of over-production.

Its aid to our foreign agriculture competitors.

In referring to farm product surpluses, the president said:

"The recurring problem of surpluses in farm products has long been a subject of deep concern to the entire nation, and any economically sound, workable solution of it would command not only the approval but the profound gratitude of our people. The present measure, however, falls far short of that most desirable objective; indeed, although it purports to provide farm relief by lessening the cares of our greatest industry, it not only fails to accomplish that purpose but actually heaps even higher its burdens of political control, of distribution costs, and of foreign competition."

"It embodies a formidable array of perils for agriculture which are all the more menacing because of their being obscured in a maze of ponderously futile bureaucratic paraphernalia. In fact, in spite of the inclusion in this measure of some constructive steps proposed by the administration, it renews most of the more vicious devices which appeared in the bill that was vetoed last year."

"This document is much altered from its previous form but in substance, particularly as to its evident ultimate affect of tending to delude the farmer with a fantastic promise of unworkable governmental price regulation, is still as repugnant as ever to the spirit of our institutions, both political and commercial."

After listing the president's six objections the message read:

"1—price fixing—this measure is as cruelly deceptive in its design as governmental price-fixing legislation and involves quite as unmistakable the impossible scheme of attempted governmental control of buying and selling of agricultural products to

MAYOR LEACH TO BE HIS OWN CHIEF OF POLICE

Minneapolis, May 23.—(UP)—Mayor George E. Leach will probably assume the duties of chief of police from which office he announced the dismissal of Frank W. Branskill Tuesday.

Although both officials declined to discuss the matter the reason for the dismissal is said to be friction over who should govern the police department. Notice of discharge was given Branskill after the mayor had four times demanded his resignation.

A bitter political fight is expected to follow the dismissal of the chief. Political workers and ward leaders already have begun a campaign against the mayor's action.

political agencies as any of the other so-called surplus control bills. In fact, in certain respects it is much broader and more flagrant in its scope. The heights to which price-fixing might be promised are freed from the limitations fixed in previous measures.

The bill carefully avoids any direct allusion to such price-fixing functions, but there can be no doubt about its intentions and authorizations to the federal farm board in its respect.

"These provisions would disappoint the farmer by naively implying that the law of supply and demand can thus be legislatively distorted in his favor. Economic history is filled with the evidences of the ghastly futility of such attempts. Flat prices match the folly of flat money."

"The board would be compelled to arrive in some way at the premium on the domestic price which would be demanded from the consumer, and this figure would have to be fixed in the contracts which it would make with the millers, packers, canners, spinners and other processors. Such prices and other terms fixed in the contracts would be used by the board to calculate the losses upon which it will base the size of the equalization fee. This procedure is the very essence of price fixing no matter how cumbersome and crudely camouflaged it may be. By throwing the very large resources of the government into this operation the present bill gives the widest latitude for the most vicious temptations adherent in autocratic authority in complete command of vast industries and trades."

"In previous bills definite yardsticks have been determined by which prices were to be established by the government. They are omitted from this bill, which thereby leaves almost no restraint whatever upon the discretion of the board in this respect. The present measure, therefore, has even less merit than its predecessors in this regard since it carries no limitation as to the extent of price inflation which it can undertake."

"2. The equalization fee, which is the kernel of this legislation, is a sales tax upon the entire community. It is in no sense a mere contribution to be made by the producers themselves, as has been represented by supporters of the measure. It can be assessed upon the commodities in transit to the consumer and its burdens can often unmistakably be passed on to him."

LINDBERGH NOW WORKING FOR A FLYING COMPANY

EMPLOYED BY TRANSCONTINENTAL AIR TRANSPORT CORPORATION

NEW POSITION, SAID EMPLOYERS IS A "FULL TIME JOB"

New York, May 23.—(UP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, who has been out of a regular job since he quit the airmail service more than a year ago to fly from New York to Paris, went to work today for the Transcontinental Air Transport Corporation.

Lindbergh's new position is a "full time job," his employers said. As chairman of the corporation's technical committee the famous ocean flyer will have charge of selecting airplanes, motors, safety devices, routes, and flying schedules for the new coast-to-coast air-mail service.

It is up to Lindbergh to say how soon the new 48-hour passenger service between New York and San Francisco can begin. His committee have not yet been selected but the colonel already has given some time and considerable thought to the problems of his new job and it is believed that the service may be inaugurated within six or seven months.

Four other aviators will serve as Lindbergh's fellow committeemen. C. M. Keys, president of the Transport Corporation, who announced the signing of Lindbergh, said the colonel's aids on the technical committee would be men of "long experience and proved ability."

Lindbergh said today that he had not signed a contract with the Air Transport Company, but that he would aid in the selection of routes and devote as much of his time as possible to the project.

"I want to specifically state," he said, "that I am not a member of the Transcontinental Air Transport Co."

DOCTORS WORK TO SAVE THE LIVES OF 200 GASED PEOPLE

VICTIMS OF STRANGE PHOSGENE GAS DISASTER AT HAMBURG

INVESTIGATION UNDER WAY AS TO ORIGIN OF SUPPLY OF DEADLY TRENCH GAS

Hamburg, Germany, May 23.—(UP)—While doctors worked to save the lives of 200 people—victims of the strange phosgene gas disaster in a suburb of Hamburg—investigations were under way as to the origin of the supply of deadly trench gas.

All danger from the gas, which escaped Sunday night, was believed removed today. A provident rain had dissipated much of the cloud that swept over the city while friendly winds had kept the thick, deadly cloud from the populous residential district.

Twelve persons died from coming in contact with the gas. Doctors feared many of the 200 persons taken to hospitals might not recover from ill effects of the poisoning. Many may be left permanent gas victims.

The former owner, a man named Stolzenberger, said the supply was part of the war stores. Unconfirmed rumors spread, however, that the gas was of post war origin and had been intended for Russia.

The firm now occupying the Stolzenberger premises reported they had told authorities repeatedly of the presence of the tank of phosgene gas but had received no satisfactory reply.

Washington, May 23.—(UP)—President Coolidge today vetoed for the second time within two years the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill designed to aid stabilization of the agricultural industry.

No chance of passing the bill over the veto is seen now.

"In previous bills definite yardsticks have been determined by which prices were to be established by the government. They are omitted from this bill, which thereby leaves almost no restraint whatever upon the discretion of the board in this respect. The present measure, therefore, has even less merit than its predecessors in this regard since it carries no limitation as to the extent of price inflation which it can undertake."

"2. The equalization fee, which is the kernel of this legislation, is a sales tax upon the entire community. It is in no sense a mere contribution to be made by the producers themselves, as has been represented by supporters of the measure. It can be assessed upon the commodities in transit to the consumer and its burdens can often unmistakably be passed on to him."

EMPLOYED BY TRANSCONTINENTAL AIR TRANSPORT CORPORATION

NEW POSITION, SAID EMPLOYERS IS A "FULL TIME JOB"

New York, May 23.—(UP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, who has been out of a regular job since he quit the airmail service more than a year ago to fly from New York to Paris, went to work today for the Transcontinental Air Transport Corporation.

Lindbergh's new position is a "full time job," his employers said. As chairman of the corporation's technical committee the famous ocean flier will have charge of selecting airplanes, motors, safety devices, routes and flying schedules for the new coast-to-coast air-mail service.

It is up to Lindbergh to say how soon the new 48-hour passenger service between New York and San Francisco can begin. His committee men have not yet been selected but the colonel already has given some time and considerable thought to the problems of his new job and it is believed that the service may be inaugurated within six or seven months.

Four other aviators will serve as Lindbergh's fellow committeemen. C. M. Keys, president of the Transport Corporation, who announced the signing of Lindbergh, said the colonel's aid on the technical committee would be men of "long experience and proved ability."

Lindbergh said today that he had not signed a contract with the Air Transport Company, but that he would aid in the selection of routes and devote as much of his time as possible to the project.

"I want to specifically state," he said, "that I am not a member of the Transcontinental Air Transport Co."

PLAN VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL

Children of All Churches Invited to Participate in Instructions, June 18-30

Local Force of Teachers to be Aided by Two Trained Workers From Minneapolis

Plans are being perfected for the Daily Vacation Bible school at the First Baptist church. It will be held from June 18-30. This is an annual feature of the work carried on in the church. It is expected that a bigger and better school will be held this year than ever before.

The school is interdenominational in its work, so children from all churches are invited. The Bible itself is the principal text book and the basis of instruction. Handwork is reduced to a minimum for it is felt that the Word of God is of perennial interest to boys and girls. There will be supervised playground instruction.

Besides the local force of teachers, two trained workers have been secured from Minneapolis. Norman Craft and Kenneth Larrabee of the Northwestern Bible school will come to assist in this school and the one held in the Baptist Mill Mission of Northeast Brainerd the two weeks following. There will be no charge, and a cordial invitation is extended to all children to attend.

VISITS CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

As Chairman of Finance Committee of Senate Has Helped Brainerd Schools

Senator A. J. Rockne candidate for United States senator will be at Brainerd, Thursday afternoon, May 24. There will be no stated meeting, but a friendly call on people in Brainerd and the Sixth Congressional district.

The senator's experience of 25 years in the Minnesota legislature, 10 years of which was in the house, and 15 years in the senate, has demonstrated his feeling to the agricultural interests in general and as chairman of the finance committee of senate has been a distinct help to Brainerd in its school program. Also his introduction of the grain grading bill, and the introduction of legislation to curb the evils of handling of stock at the South St. Paul stock yard has also been helpful to the farmers.

MRS. A. TURCOTTE HEADS POPPY SALE

AIDS DISABLED VETERANS

Sale to be Conducted Under Auspices of American Legion Auxiliary

Mrs. Arthur Turcotte has been named by the president of the Brainerd American Legion Auxiliary to act as chairman of the annual poppy sale which will be held throughout the state, Monday and Tuesday, May 28 and 29.

Mrs. Turcotte announced today that she will name her workers this week and that preparations are being made for one of the biggest poppy sales sponsored by the Brainerd Auxiliary.

"Fewer coppers and more silver" is the slogan adopted by the Auxiliary for the seventh annual poppy sale.

Funds from the sale are used in relief and welfare work. The poppies are made by veterans who were disabled in war and the making of poppies gives them sufficient money to live on.

"The cause remains as worthy of support this year as seven years ago," said Mrs. Turcotte, "a general ous response has always been made by Brainerd citizens and we do not anticipate any lagging of interest. The money derived from the sale is put to a very good use. Veterans are given assistance while they are awaiting settlement of claims against the government and wives and children are given assistance while fathers are confined to hospitals."

Visiting Players Become Acquainted With Brainerd Theatregoers and Like Them

The Obrecht Sisters and Johnnie Sullivan Players are fast winning their way into the hearts of Brainerd theatregoers and before their week's engagement is over will prove what a splendid company and plays they have. Although this is their first visit to Brainerd they are fast making a host of friends and Mr. Sullivan says he looks forward to playing here each season although earlier in the year.

Tonight "Laff That Off" is featured and a great show is guaranteed. Dainty little Sally Obrecht and Johnnie Sullivan share the leading roles but the entire company have excellent parts and give a creditable performance. A special setting is carried and two feature "vodyville" acts will be offered between acts.

Other People's Opinions

Communications are not to exceed 50 words. All must be signed, and will be published with name of writer.

A few days ago an article appeared in the local paper taken from the Anoka Herald discussing the pros and cons of married women labor which is a very logical theory, but theory and practice are of a different nature as enterprises are operated for profit and when they can employ help at a lower salary little do they regard if said has dependents or not, whether it is office, clerical, or sales work and oftentimes married men are cast aside in preference to a pretty blonde or fair brunette, a sad case, but true.

How well do I recollect when the call for men came during the World war, how the headlines of the majority of the press were that glory, honor, and positions would be ours at our return but said propaganda was forgotten as soon as we placed our name on the blanks at the recruiting station.

I. L. Peterson, secretary of the Brainerd Y. M. C. A. has been invited by the University branch of the Minneapolis Y. M. C. A. to accompany a selected group of boys into the Superior National Forest the second week of June. This trip is a special feature of the Y. M. C. The trip is of rather a primitive nature, the group motors about a hundred miles north of Duluth and then travels in the virgin forest by hiking and by canoe, some of the trip covering the trails of the early fur traders.

The trip takes the boys beyond the Canadian border and covers a weeks time, Grand Marais being the nearest base. A physical examination is required of each member of the party before leaving their homes. Mr. Peterson will meet the party at Proctor on June 5. Two Brainerd boys may also be members of the party.

At the commencement exercises at the New Park theatre Friday evening, June 1, the largest senior class in the history of Brainerd high school will graduate. There are one hundred and five members and next year there is a possibility of a still larger class. In spite of the handicap under which they were forced to work for the past two months the class as a whole has made remarkable progress and will share full honors with the classes of other years.

The officers of this large class have proven worthy of the honors bestowed upon them by their classmates. President, Donald McNamara; Vice President, Kathleen Early; Secretary, Irene Molstad; Treasurer, Henry Viken.

PLAN VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL

Local Force of Teachers to be Aided by Two Trained Workers From Minneapolis

Plans are being perfected for the Daily Vacation Bible school at the First Baptist church. It will be held from June 18-30. This is an annual feature of the work carried on in the church. It is expected that a bigger and better school will be held this year than ever before.

The school is interdenominational in its work, so children from all churches are invited. The Bible itself is the principal text book and the basis of instruction. Handwork is reduced to a minimum for it is felt that the Word of God is of perennial interest to boys and girls. There will be supervised playground instruction.

Besides the local force of teachers, two trained workers have been secured from Minneapolis. Norman Craft and Kenneth Larrabee of the Northwestern Bible school will come to assist in this school and the one held in the Baptist Mill Mission of Northeast Brainerd the two weeks following. There will be no charge, and a cordial invitation is extended to all children to attend.

PROGRAM OF INTEREST TO ALL MUNICIPAL OFFICIALS

A PROGRAM of unusual interest to all municipal officials has been arranged for the three day session of the League of Minnesota Municipalities which will meet for its Fifteenth Annual Convention at Brainerd and Breezy Point on June 13, 14, and 15. Speakers of prominence in their respective fields will discuss subjects of timely interest, and discussions in the group will center about the many mutual problems of the municipal officials.

The first day's session will bring Professor Franz A. Aust of the University of Wisconsin, an authority on landscape design, to speak on civic beautification. That "first impressions are most lasting" will be the theme of Professor Aust's lecture, which will be illustrated by numerous slides.

Discussion of another important phase of municipal activity will be opened on the first day by Dr. L. E. Frank, United States Public Health Service, Washington, D. C., in a talk on "Milk Control in Small Cities." The report of the work of the League committee on public health will be presented by Dr. D. C. Lochead, Rochester, chairman. Other speakers and an open forum will bring the first day's session to a close.

In the evening the Minnesota Historical Society, also meeting in Brainerd, has invited League delegates to hear Dr. William Anderson, Chairman, Department of Political Science, University of Minnesota, speak on "Local Government and Local History."

Two varied subjects of timely interest will hold the delegates' interest the morning of the second day. The talk on "Organized Play in the Small Community" by Eugene T. Lies, field representative, Playground and Recreation Society of America, New York City, will open the session. A discussion of "Uniform Budgets and Accounts" will be led by A. E. Bickford, City Clerk, Virginia, and chairman of the League committee on municipal accounts and budgets.

Clarence Goldsmith, Chief Engineer, National Board of Fire Underwriters, Chicago, speaking on "An Ounce of Prevention" will follow the announcement at the afternoon meeting of the first annual Northwest Fire School to be held in Minneapolis, August 13 to 17. Fire Chief W. C. Norton, Winona, Chairman of the League Committee on Fire Prevention and Fire Fighting, will discuss the plans for the fire school which is being sponsored by the League, the Minnesota Department of Insurance and the Minneapolis Fire Department. Mr. George Lockhart, drillmaster of the Minneapolis fire department, is assisting in the arrangements for the fire school.

In view of the attendance at the Minneapolis convention last June, when more than 500 officials represented 146 Minnesota municipalities, League officials anticipate an attendance of equal size at Brainerd. The splendid program of entertainment at Brainerd and at Breezy Point should prove an added attraction for convention delegates. Early reservations from less than fifty cities and villages already indicate a large representation.

THE GROWING TOURIST BUSINESS

IN his most recent interview published by The Minneapolis Tribune, Roger Babson notes the growth of the tourist trade, which this year will total $3,600,000,000. Mr. Babson finds that the tourist trade has become one of the great industries of the country.

Mr. Babson finds that in terms of value it runs 60 per cent higher than the lumber industry, 51 per cent higher than the oil industry, 11 per cent higher than the meat packing industry, and 185 per cent higher than the baking industry. It has a value practically equal to that of the iron and steel business, one-half as great as that of the railroad business, and more than one-half that of the total annual building and construction.

The chief practical moral to be drawn from the Babson survey of the tourist business, continues the Minneapolis Tribune, is that Minnesota should redouble its efforts to get its proper share of the pie. Those earlier Minnesotans who came to the conclusion that the lakes and scenic charms of this state represented potential assets of great commercial value probably did not suspect how right they were. Fifteen years ago the tourist was a comparatively rare person, and the tourist business did not amount to much. Now conditions have so changed that the tourist, instead of being the exceptional person, has become the average person. The rise of the tourist industry has been coincident with the rise of the automobile industry. This, of course, was not only logical, but inevitable; one of the reasons why the average person buys an automobile is that he may become a tourist for at least a part of each year. The universalizing, so to speak, of the automobile, has resulted in a corresponding universalization of the tourist as a type.

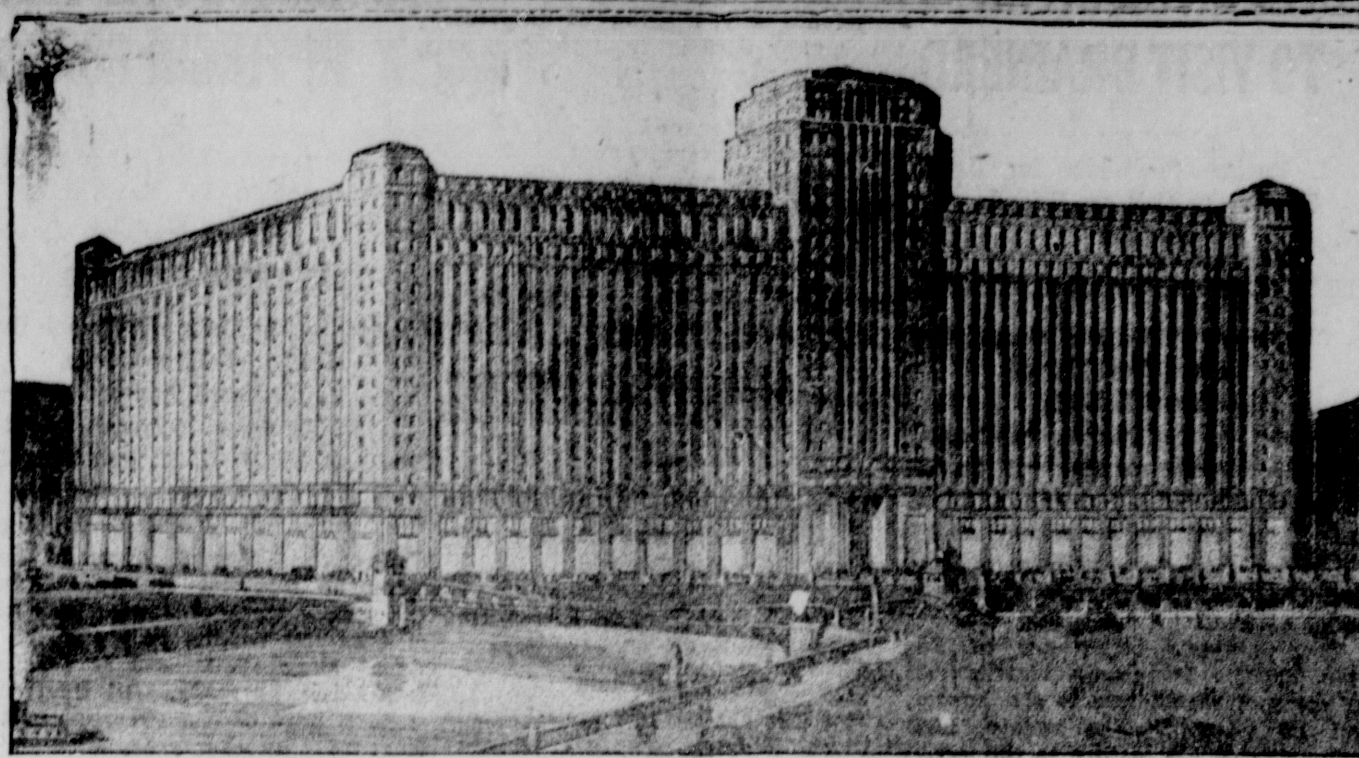

These considerations are fairly obvious on the face of them. Yet, to date, the tourist business has not been taken seriously enough. We may admit that latterly there has been a disposition to treat it with increasing seriousness, but with no seriousness proportionate to the vast dimensions of the industry as shown by the statistics.

There can be no question as to the enormous volume of the tourist industry, and no question as to the fact that it is a stable and growing industry. Minnesota cannot hope to profit much from the winter tourist, but it has a list of wares for the summer buyer which no state in the union can rival. We regularly congratulate ourselves on the substantial amounts which tourists spend within the confines of Minnesota during the summer, but when we think of the share of the business which should rightly be ours (the merits of the articles we have for sale being taken due account of), it must be admitted that we are not doing as well as we should.

Minnesota should not be satisfied with the returns it is now receiving from the tourist business. We deserve a larger part of the sums spent annually by the summer tourists than we get. Each and every Minnesotan should put his shoulder to the wheel, and lend his aid to the cause of spreading Minnesota's fame as a summer playground.

ONE of the important conventions of the season is that of the State Bankers association. A close examination of our lake and farming country may result in investments by the visitors.

A BUSINESS institution certainly shows its faith in Brainerd when it spends $10,000 on a new store front.

The Merchandise Mart of Chicago, Twice the Size of the World's Largest Business Building, to Cost $30,000,000.

GIGANTIC MERCHANDISE MART TO BE TWICE SIZE OF WORLD'S LARGEST BUSINESS BUILDING

New Project for Chicago's Great Central Market to Cost $30,000,000—Involves the Greatest Single Development of Air Rights in the West.

Foremost Manufacturers, Wholesalers and Importers
Will Be Housed Under One Roof in New Wholesale District; Inbound and Outbound Freight
Station on Ground Floor of Building;
Club in Tower for Nation's Merchants.

Chicago, (Special).—Chicago is to have a gigantic Merchandise Mart housed in its own building, which will be twice the size of the largest business building in the world. This mammoth structure, two city blocks in length, 18 to 23 stories high, is planned for the service and convenience of merchandise buyers of the United States and to achieve for Chicago a still greater prestige as a Great Central Market. It was declared today. It will cost $30,000,000. Construction will begin immediately. The project will be the largest single development of air rights. The property of the new building except for eissons begins 23 feet above "datum."

The big business of the country is now done mainly in concentrated market places, as evidenced by the Garment Center and Cotton Goods Center in New York City, automobile rows in all leading cities, financial buildings, and the Furniture Mart in Chicago, where more than 700 furniture manufacturers show their products side by side. In the most modern manner and under ideal conditions. Business men have learned that the nearer they are to the centers of these market places, the greater is their opportunity for volume and profit.

The establishment of the Merchandise Mart is a dramatic development in the program to make Chicago the Great Central Market, a movement which the Chicago Association of Commerce started a number of years ago and a goal toward which it has been devoting its energies continuously ever since, under the leadership of its Foreign and Domestic Commerce committee.

Located on River Front.

This great Mart, which will house sales quarters and merchandise displays of several hundred of the country's foremost manufacturers, wholesalers and importers, will be located in the rapidly developing new river district, and will occupy a distinctly conspicuous position just across the river from Wacker Drive at Wells street, where the southern facade of the structure will be visible for blocks. The site was formerly that of the Chicago and North Western Railway Company's passenger station. The building will extend 724 feet on Kinzie street, 577 feet on the river front and 324 feet on Wells street, with a diagonal frontage facing Orleans and Franklin streets. It will be set back from the river about 80 feet to accommodate a broad upper level drive extending from Wells to Franklin. The main entrance of the building will face the river and the drive.

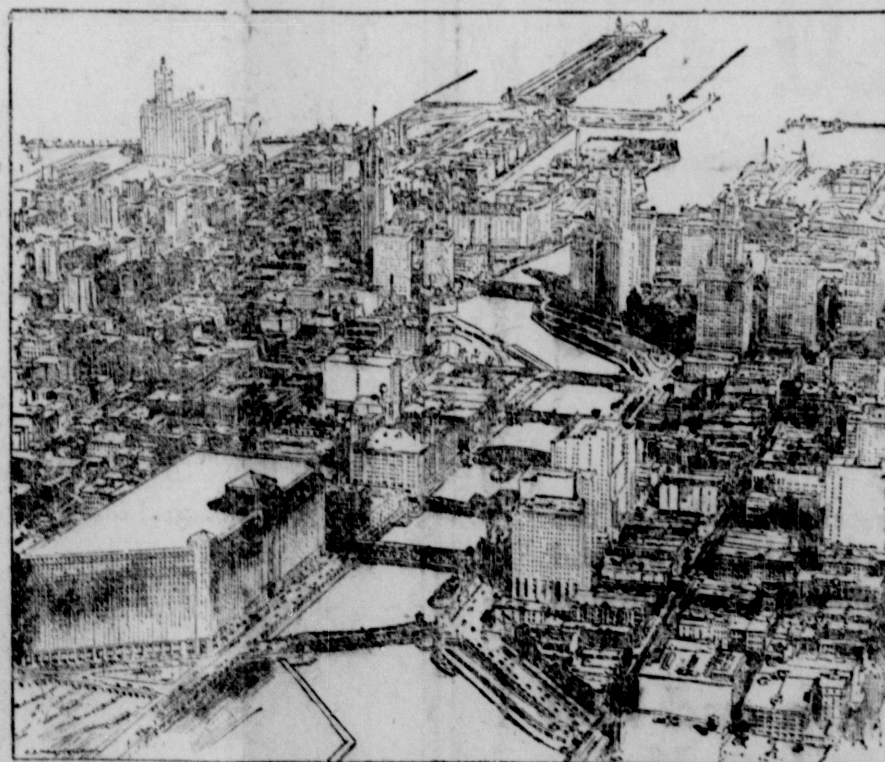

The Merchandise Mart will have a total floor space of about 4,000,000 square feet as compared with slightly less than 2,000,000 square feet, which is the floor area of the Furniture Mart, the next largest building. Each of the eighteen main floors will have an area of more than 200,000 square feet.

Within the walls of this huge edifice the retail merchants of the United States, Canada and foreign countries will be able to see, under one roof, hundreds of lines of the world's best merchandise. The manufacturers' exhibits will include textiles, ready-to-wear, toys, furs, gloves, corsets, millinery, silverware, glass, rugs, knit goods, hosiery, shoes, men's wear, fancy goods, sport goods, art and antiques, jewelry, trunks, toilet articles, house furnishings, office equipment and scores of other merchandise displays.

Ten Largest Business
Buildings in the World

Comparison of the cubage of the largest buildings in the world shows the Merchandise Mart, to be erected in Chicago, will be more than twice the size of the largest business building ever constructed. Here are the figures in cubic feet:

1. The Merchandise Mart, 53,000,000.
2. Chicago Furniture Mart, 25,370,000.
3. Equitable Building, New York City, 24,000,000.
4. General Motors, Detroit, 20,411,000.
5. Union Trust, Cleveland, 20,000,000.
6. Railway Exchange, St. Louis, 18,893,000.

Bird's-eye View of Chicago's New Business District Carrying Out the City Beautiful Theme in Which the Mercantile Mart Will Be a Dominant Factor

Among the largest tenants will be the wholesale and manufacturing sales departments of Marshall Field & Company.

Time Saver for Merchants.

Every possible facility will be provided for the comfort and convenience of the retail merchant, who under one roof will be able to see hundreds of lines, thus saving time and money by doing in a few hours what ordinarily would take him days to accomplish.

On all floors of the Mart will be great corridors, with all the appearance of boulevards, more than 650 feet in length, on either side of which will be the shops displaying their varied lines—veritable "business streets." These great corridors will be impressively treated architecturally and with the large space available it will be possible to house the selling activities and warehousing of many allied concerns on one floor, thus attaining the advantages of concentrated groupings.

The facilities for handling merchandise within the building will embody the best and most modern achievements of engineering science, including fast elevators, freight conveyors of both the gravity and endless chain type and quick horizontal distribution on every floor.

Probably no building in the world will have such facilities for receiving and shipping merchandise as the new Merchandise Mart. The entire ground level below the street floor will be a modern freight station. Private tracks for incoming carload freight will extend under the center of the building. The Chicago and North Western Railway will operate an inbound freight station for less than carload lots, as well as an outbound station, which will connect with all other roads through its new Provision yards. The merchandise as it comes into this big freight station will be loaded into high-speed conveyors and transported immediately to the exact floor and aisle of the merchant for whom it is intended.

Connection will be made with the Illinois Tunnel Company's system of freight transportation, which has more than sixty miles of tracks beneath the streets and buildings of the city, reaching all other railroad terminals. A river dock for vessels will connect with the south freight elevators of the building.

Club Planned for Tower.

One of the interesting features planned for the Mart will be a Merchants' Club in the tower of the building, with lounging rooms, reading and smoking rooms, where the retailer may relax and meet his friends. The Mart will provide the retailer with everything but a place to sleep. He can go direct from the train to the Mart with his baggage. Here his hotel reservations will be taken care of, his baggage transported to his hotel and placed in his room. Restaurants, lunch rooms and grills in the Mart will further economize his time. He will have the facilities of a barber shop, and a branch postoffice, telegraph office and public stenographers will afford him the opportunity to handle his correspondence without leaving the building. One of the biggest telephone exchanges in the world will be installed in the Mart.

Many other unique features are being considered for the Mart, including an Assembly Hall, where trade meetings, business conferences and fashion

Ever since Iso-Vis was put on the market, unsolicited letters have come pouring in by the hundreds, praising this remarkable oil, telling of results obtained. These letters are the best advertisements that could be written about any product. They state facts. Here are a few examples:

I have one customer, driving a Dodge, who has driven over 3000 miles without changing oil. Another driving a Buick, who has driven 3500 miles without changing. They simply add a quart when needed, and you couldn't sell them anything but Iso-Vis any more. I want to congratulate the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) for putting such a superior product as Iso-Vis on the market.

Another good feature of Iso-Vis is that it does not thin down but always keeps up the body no matter how long it is used. It gives better lubrication and is certainly more economical than ordinary oil, even if the cost is slightly higher. I am more satisfied with it than any oil that I have ever used.

PROGRAM OF INTEREST TO ALL MUNICIPAL OFFICIALS

A PROGRAM of unusual interest to all municipal officials has been arranged for the three day session of the League of Minnesota Municipalities which will meet for its Fifteenth Annual Convention at Brainerd and Breezy Point on June 13, 14, and 15. Speakers of prominence in their respective fields will discuss subjects of timely interest, and discussions in the group will center about the many mutual problems of the municipal officials.

The first day's session will bring Professor Franz A. Aust of the University of Wisconsin, an authority on landscape design, to speak on civic beautification. That "first impressions are most lasting" will be the theme of Professor Aust's lecture, which will be illustrated by numerous slides.

Discussion of another important phase of municipal activity will be opened on the first day by Dr. L. E. Frank, United States Public Health Service, Washington, D. C., in a talk on "Milk Control in Small Cities." The report of the work of the League committee on public health will be presented by Dr. D. C. Lohead, Rochester, chairman. Other speakers and an open forum will bring the first day's session to a close.

In the evening the Minnesota Historical Society, also meeting in Brainerd, has invited League delegates to hear Dr. William Anderson, Chairman, Department of Political Science, University of Minnesota, speak on "Local Government and Local History."

Two varied subjects of timely interest will hold the delegates' interest the morning of the second day. The talk on "Organized Play in the Small Community" by Eugene T. Lies, field representative, Playground and Recreation Society of America, New York City, will open the session. A discussion of "Uniform Budgets and Accounts" will be led by A. E. Bickford, City Clerk, Virginia, and chairman of the League committee on municipal accounts and budgets.

Clarence Goldsmith, Chief Engineer, National Board of Fire Underwriters, Chicago, speaking on "An Ounce of Prevention" will follow the announcement at the afternoon meeting of the first annual Northwest Fire School to be held in Minneapolis, August 13 to 17. Fire Chief W. C. Norton, Winona, Chairman of the League Committee on Fire Prevention and Fire Fighting, will discuss the plans for the fire school which is being sponsored by the League, the Minnesota Department of Insurance and the Minneapolis Fire Department. Mr. George Lockhart, drillmaster of the Minneapolis fire department, is assisting in the arrangements for the fire school.

In view of the attendance at the Minneapolis convention last June, when more than 500 officials represented 146 Minnesota municipalities, League officials anticipate an attendance of equal size at Brainerd. The splendid program of entertainment at Brainerd and at Breezy Point should prove an added attraction for convention delegates. Early reservations from less than fifty cities and villages already indicate a large representation.

THE GROWING TOURIST BUSINESS

IN his most recent interview published by The Minneapolis Tribune, Roger Babson notes the growth of the tourist trade, which this year will total $3,600,000,000. Mr. Babson finds that the tourist trade has become one of the great industries of the country.

Mr. Babson finds that in terms of value it runs 60 per cent higher than the lumber industry, 51 per cent higher than the oil industry, 11 per cent higher than the meat packing industry, and 185 per cent higher than the baking industry. It has a value practically equal to that of the iron and steel business, one-half as great as that of the railroad business, and more than one-half that of the total annual building and construction.

The chief practical moral to be drawn from the Babson survey of the tourist business, continues the Minneapolis Tribune, is that Minnesota should redouble its efforts to get its proper share of the pie. Those earlier Minnesotans who came to the conclusion that the lakes and scenic charms of this state represented potential assets of great commercial value probably did not suspect how right they were. Fifteen years ago the tourist was a comparatively rare person, and the tourist business did not amount to much. Now conditions have so changed that the tourist, instead of being the exceptional person, has become the average person. The rise of the tourist industry has been coincident with the rise of the automobile industry. This, of course, was not only logical, but inevitable; one of the reasons why the average person buys an automobile is that he may become a tourist for at least a part of each year. The universalizing, so to speak, of the automobile, has resulted in a corresponding universalization of the tourist as a type.

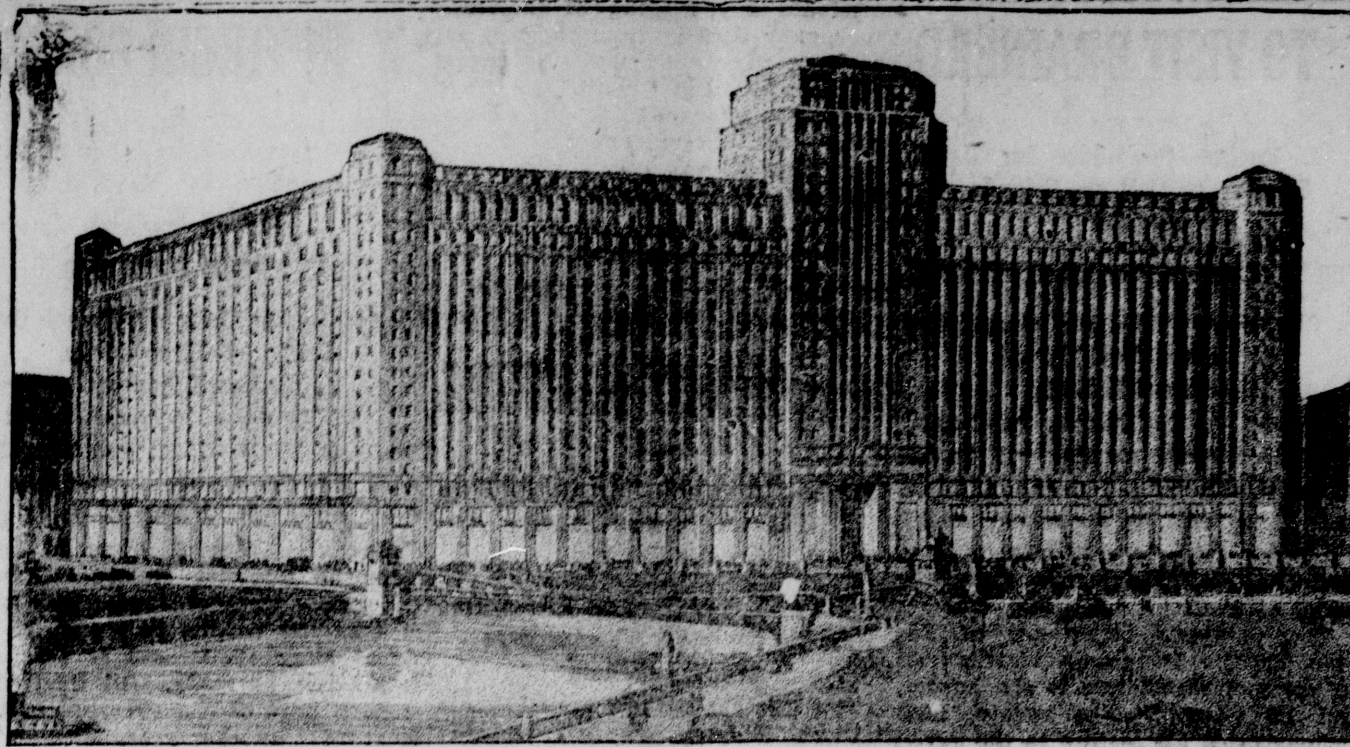

These considerations are fairly obvious on the face of them. Yet, to date, the tourist business has not been taken seriously enough. We may admit that latterly there has been a disposition to treat it with increasing seriousness, but with no seriousness proportionate to the vast dimensions of the industry as shown by the statistics.

There can be no question as to the enormous volume of the tourist industry, and no question as to the fact that it is a stable and growing industry. Minnesota cannot hope to profit much from the winter tourist, but it has a list of wares for the summer buyer which no state in the union can rival. We regularly congratulate ourselves on the substantial amounts which tourists spend within the confines of Minnesota during the summer, but when we think of the share of the business which should rightly be ours (the merits of the articles we have for sale being taken due account of), it must be admitted that we are not doing as well as we should.

Minnesota should not be satisfied with the returns it is now receiving from the tourist business. We deserve a larger part of the sums spent annually by the summer tourists than we get. Each and every Minnesotan should put his shoulder to the wheel, and lend his aid to the cause of spreading Minnesota's fame as a summer playground.

ONE of the important conventions of the season is that of the State Bankers association. A close examination of our lake and farming country may result in investments by the visitors.

A BUSINESS institution certainly shows its faith in Brainerd when it spends $10,000 on a new store front.

The Merchandise Mart of Chicago, Twice the Size of the World's Largest Business Building, to Cost $30,000,000.

GIGANTIC MERCHANDISE MART TO BE TWICE SIZE OF WORLD'S LARGEST BUSINESS BUILDING

New Project for Chicago's Great Central Market to Cost $30,000,000—Involves the Greatest Single Development of Air Rights in the West.

Foremost Manufacturers, Wholesalers and Importers
Will Be Housed Under One Roof in New Wholesale
District; Inbound and Outbound Freight
Station on Ground Floor of Building;
Club in Tower for Nation's Merchants.

Chicago, (Special).—Chicago is to have a gigantic Merchandise Mart housed in its own building, which will be twice the size of the largest business building in the world. This mammoth structure, two city blocks in length, 18 to 23 stories high, is planned for the service and convenience of merchandise buyers of the United States and to achieve for Chicago a still greater prestige as a Great Central Market, it was declared today. It will cost $30,000,000. Construction will begin immediately. The project will be the largest single development of air rights. The property of the new building except for caissons begins 23 feet above "datum."

The big business of the country is now done mainly in concentrated market places, as evidenced by the Garment Center and Cotton Goods Center in New York City, automobile rows in all leading cities, financial buildings, and the Furniture Mart in Chicago, where more than 700 furniture manufacturers show their products side by side. In the most modern manner and under ideal conditions. Business men have learned that the nearer they are to the centers of these market places, the greater is their opportunity for volume and profit.

The establishment of the Merchandise Mart is a dramatic development in the program to make Chicago the Great Central Market, a movement which the Chicago Association of Commerce started a number of years ago and a goal toward which it has been devoting its energies continuously ever since, under the leadership of its Foreign and Domestic Commerce committee.

Located on River Front.
This great Mart, which will house sales quarters and merchandise displays of several hundred of the country's foremost manufacturers, wholesalers and importers, will be located in the rapidly developing new river district, and will occupy a distinctly conspicuous position just across the river from Wacker Drive at Wells street, where the southern facade of the structure will be visible for blocks. The site was formerly that of the Chicago and North Western Railway Company's passenger station. The building will extend 724 feet on Kinzie street, 577 feet on the river front and 324 feet on Wells street, with a diagonal frontage facing Orleans and Franklin streets. It will be set back from the river about 80 feet to accommodate a broad upper level drive extending from Wells to Franklin. The main entrance of the building will face the river and the drive.

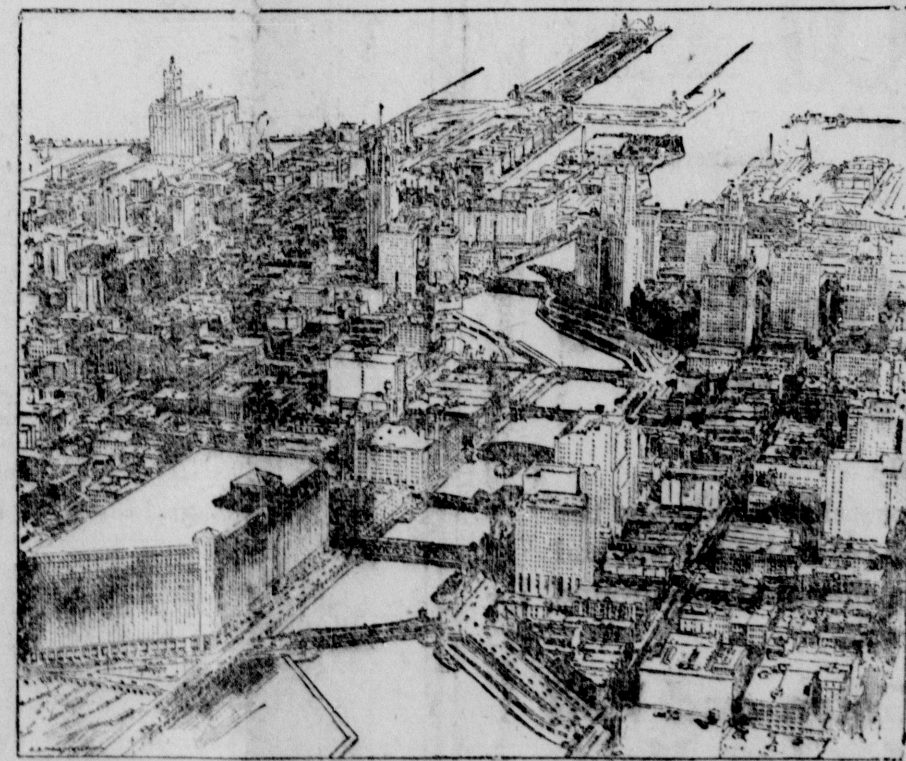

The Merchandise Mart will have a total floor space of about 4,000,000 square feet as compared with slightly less than 2,000,000 square feet, which is the floor area of the Furniture Mart, the next largest building. Each of the eighteen main floors will have an area of more than 200,000 square feet.

Within the walls of this huge edifice the retail merchants of the United States, Canada and foreign countries will be able to see, under one roof, hundreds of lines of the world's best merchandise. The manufacturers' exhibits will include textiles, ready-to-wear, toys, furs, gloves, corsets, millinery, silverware, glass, rugs, knit goods, hosiery, shoes, men's wear, fancy goods, sport goods, art and antiques, jewelry, trunks, toilet articles, house furnishings, office equipment and scores of other merchandise displayed.

Ten Largest Business Buildings in the World

Comparison of the cubage of the largest buildings in the world shows the Merchandise Mart, to be erected in Chicago, will be more than twice the size of the largest business building ever constructed. Here are the figures in cubic feet:

1. The Merchandise Mart, 53,000,000.
2. Chicago Furniture Mart, 25,370,000.
3. Equitable Building, New York City, 24,000,000.
4. General Motors, Detroit, 20,411,000.
5. Union Trust, Cleveland, 20,000,000.
6. Railway Exchange, St. Louis, 19,898,000.
7. Illinois Merchants' Bank, Chicago, 17,850,000.
8. Continental & Commercial Bank, Chicago, 13,200,000.
9. Woolworth Building, New York City, 13,200,000.
10. Straus Building, Chicago, 10,000,000.

DISPUTE ON BANTAMWEIGHT TITLE SETTLED TONIGHT

YOUNG GRAHAM IS TO BOX IZZY SCHWARTZ AT N. Y.

CORPORAL SCHWARTZ IS GOING OUT OF HIS CLASS TO MEET HIS MAN

WEATHER PERMITTING THE TWO WILL GO FIFTEEN-ROUND ROUTE

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Sports Writer)

New York, May 23.—A long drawn out dispute over the bantamweight championship of the world, which has endured ever since Charley Phil Rosenberg tried to sell out to Bushy Graham and both were suspended from the ring for a year and a day, may be settled tonight at Ebbetts Field, the Brooklyn park where this same Graham, restored to good standing, boxes Izzy Schwartz, the little corporal who also holds the flyweight title.

Schwartz is going out of his class because of lack of remunerative competition among the 112-pounders and hopes to win the double tiara by defeating the shaggy haired, bouncing boy from Utica.

Weather permitting, the pair will meet over the prescribed 15-round route and the winner will be recognized as bantamweight champion.

Graham will have considerable advantage in weight and reach, since the New York state athletic commission has required the corporal to make his own division weight of 112 pounds.

For a time, the national boxing commission insisted that Bud Taylor, the blonde slugger from Terre Haute, was bantam champ, but Buddy outgrew the class and his title was declared vacated.

Schwartz is recognized as a two-fisted fighter and may be able to give Graham six pounds and a lacing. The chances are, however, that Bushy will win decisively.

Kid Francis, the hard hitting little Italian bantam, was to have had the title shot against Graham, but he fell ill, and Schwartz asked for the chance to become champion of two divisions.

In the semi-final, Sergeant Sammy Baker of Mitchell Field meets rough, tough Nick Testa of Troy. The winner of this bout will be named logical contender for the welterweight championship which Joe Dundee of Baltimore has failed to defend for a long time.

Ace Hudkins, Nebraska, was to have had the shot at Dundee's crown but backed out of the match.

I. O. O. F. SCORE SIX RUNS IN FIFTH TO TIE Y. M. C. A.

DIAMOND PICK-UPS

Pitcher Jim Jolley of Wichita has been released to the Denver Bears.

Apparently Kiki Cuyler has no intention of occupying a perch on the bench this season.

Cliff Fuson of Saguncho, Colo., has been appointed an umpire by President Fred Nye of the Utah-Idaho league.

Jack Smith, sub first sacker of the Toledo Mud Hens last year, has been sent to Hartford of the Eastern league.

Chicago Cubs of 1924 were the worst base stealers of all time. They were caught trying to steal 149 bases that year.

Pitchers can go to the well once too often—Jack Quinn as he starts his second half century, shows signs of cracks.

University of Oregon baseball nine has given up the idea of invading Hawaii for a series of games during July and August.

Clarence Griffin, left-hand pitcher drafted by Washington last year, has been returned to Memphis of the Southern association.

Johnny Morrison, veteran pitcher, has been released outright by Pittsburgh Pirates to the Kansas City club of the American association.

John McGraw, manager of the Giants, has sent Jake Levy, Jewish pitcher, to the Hartford club of the Eastern league under option.

A lot of ball players look good when their club is leading, or trailing by five or six runs, but the real stars are the fellows who stand out in a 1 to 0 battle.

Vance Graber, outfielder with the Milwaukee club of the American association, has been purchased by the Springfield club of the Western association.

Syracuse university has an unusual baseball schedule this year in that 18 of its 25 games are away from home. It opened the season April 4 and closes May 20.

Paul McCullough, pitcher for Toledo club of the American association, has been sent to the Minneapolis team of the association for the balance of the 1928 campaign.

Ed Crowley, captain of the Georgia Tech eleven last year, and baseball star, has quit school and is expected to report to the Washingtons soon. He plays third base.

Outfielder Clyde Barnhart of the Pirates stole two bases in the first five games of the season, which was the exact number that he purloined all last season in 108 games.

Sy Rosenthal, for whom the Louisville Colonels paid the Boston Red Sox $7,500 one year ago, has been sold to the Chattanooga club of the Southern association.

The St. Louis Cards have signed Kelly "Swede" Swenson, pitcher and captain of Kansas this year, to a contract and he will report when he graduates in June. Several big league clubs were after Swenson.

St. Paul has shipped Pitcher Jess Bream to York of NYP league. He was with Harrisburg last year and joins his old manager, Winn Clark, who switched from Harrisburg to York during the winter.

President Barnard of the American league has followed in the wake of Ben Johnson and is going to be a patron of the Blue Ridge league. He has promised to visit the circuit and witness some games this summer.

Donie Bush has selected Johnny Gooch to handle the spitball pitching of Burleigh Grimes and Johnny seems to be getting away with it in good style. This was a new worry for Bush, as Barney Dreyfus had not had a splitter on his team since they were ruled out, at least those who were not already using it at the time of the legislation.

GRANT AND BECK EACH ACCOUNT FOR THREE RUNS

A lengthy fifth inning which brought on darkness prevented the I. O. O. F. and the Y. M. C. A. from playing a full seven-inning game last night as the two teams battled to an 8 to 8 draw in the second tilt of the city baseball league at the N. P. grounds.

Six runs behind, the I. O. O. F. came to bat in the fifth inning and started a slugging spree that netted them the necessary six runs to tie the score. The game was called at the close of the inning.

The Y. M. C. A. got their runs in the second, third and fifth innings. Outside the hectic fifth inning, the "Y" boys played good baseball. In that inning they weakened and the I. O. O. F. sluggers laid on the pill with a vengeance.

Grant, center fielder for the Odd Fellows, brought in three runs, Beck of the Y. M. C. A. also scored three.

The line-up follows:

Y. M. C. A.—Fitzharris, 2b; Hagberg, cf; Ingstrand, ss; Ringer, c; Beck, rf; G. Orth, 1b; Marshall, 3b; C. Orth H; Larson, p.
I. O. O. F.—L. Thompson, ss; J. Thompson, lf; Grant, cf; Loom, 3b; F. Sandgren, 1b; Johnson, 2b; Swanson, rf; Erickson, c; Fogelstrom, p; Gordon, rf.

Umpires—Cummins and Erickson.

Y.M.C.A. LOSE TO BYE CLOTHING CO. 9 TO 6

After going through the season undefeated, the Y. M. C. A. lost to the Bye Clothing Co. in the first round of the playoff for the kitchenball championship of this city last night, 9 to 6. The "Y" scored one run in the first half of the first inning when E. Gabiou walked and came home on an error and fielder's choice. Byes scored three runs in the last half of the first inning when Erickson hit a home run with two on base. In the fourth inning the "Y" put another run across the plate when Heikkinen doubled and J. Gabiou singled after him. In this inning the Bye men scored four runs on three hits and three errors. Byes added another run in the fifth inning when Boyd hit a home run. The "Y" counted three times in the sixth while the Clothing men scored once. The "Y" also counted once in the seventh inning.

Tonight the American Railway Express Co. will play the J. C. Penney Co. to decide who shall play the Bye Clothing Co. Friday night for the championship. This game will start at 6:15 P. M.

SORRY APPEARING GROUP OF RUNNERS

PLYE RACERS LEAVE LIBERTY, N. Y., FOR MIDDLETOWN TODAY

Liberty, N. Y., May 23.—(UP)—A sorry appearing group of runners—greatly in contrast with that great pack of more than 200 that left California several weeks ago—started today for Middletown on the next leg of the Pyle cross country run.

Andy Payne still leads the procession and seemingly has won first honors provided he can remain in the running through the next four days. He finished fourth yesterday but still has a lead of 15 hours, 45 minutes and 35 seconds over John Salo of Passaic, N. J.

DISPUTE ON BANTAMWEIGHT TITLE SETTLED TONIGHT

YOUNG GRAHAM IS TO BOX IZZY SCHWARTZ AT N. Y.

CORPORAL SCHWARTZ IS GOING OUT OF HIS CLASS TO MEET HIS MAN

WEATHER PERMITTING THE TWO WILL GO FIFTEEN-ROUND ROUTE

By FRANK GETTY (United Press Sports Writer)

New York, May 23.—A long drawn out dispute over the bantamweight championship of the world, which has endured ever since Charley Phil Rosenberg tried to sell out to Bushy Graham and both were suspended from the ring for a year and a day, may be settled tonight at Ebbetts Field, the Brooklyn ball park where this same Graham, restored to good standing, boxes Izzzy Schwartz, the little corporal who also holds the flyweight title.

Schwartz is going out of his class because of lack of remunerative competition among the 112-pounders and hopes to win the double tiara by defeating the shaggy haired, bouncing boy from Utica.

Weather permitting, the pair will meet over the prescribed 15-round route and the winner will be recognized as bantamweight champion.

Graham will have considerable advantage in weight and reach, since the New York state athletic commission has required the corporal to make his own division weight of 112 pounds.

For a time, the national boxing commission insisted that Bud Taylor, the blonde slugger from Terre Haute, was bantam champ, but Buddy outgrew the class and his title was declared vacated.

Schwartz is recognized as a two-fisted fighter and may be able to give Graham six pounds and a lacing. The chances are, however, that Bushy will win decisively.

Kid Francis, the hard hitting little Italian bantam, was to have had the title shot against Graham, but he fell ill, and Schwartz asked for the chance to become champion of two divisions.

In the semi-final, Sergeant Sammy Baker of Mitchell Field meets rough, tough Nick Testa of Troy. The winner of this bout will be named logical contender for the welterweight championship which Joe Dundee of Baltimore has failed to defend for a long time.

Ace Hudkins, Nebraska, was to have had the shot at Dundee's crown but backed out of the match.

I. O. O. F. SCORE SIX RUNS IN FIFTH TO TIE Y. M. C. A.

DIAMOND PICK-UPS

Pitcher Jim Jolley of Wichita has been released to the Denver Bears.

Apparently Kiki Cuyler has no intention of occupying a perch on the bench this season.

Cliff Fuson of Saguache, Colo., has been appointed an umpire by President Fred Nye of the Utah-Idaho league.

Jack Smith, sub first sacker of the Toledo Mud Hens last year, has been sent to Hartford of the Eastern league.

Chicago Cubs of 1924 were the worst base stealers of all time. They were caught trying to steal 149 bases that year.

Pitchers can go to the well once too often—Jack Quinn as he starts his second half century, shows signs of cracks.

University of Oregon baseball nine has given up the idea of invading Hawaii for a series of games during July and August.

Clarence Griffin, left-hand pitcher drafted by Washington last year, has been returned to Memphis of the Southern association.

Johnny Morrison, veteran pitcher, has been released outright by Pittsburgh Pirates to the Kansas City club of the American association.

John McGraw, manager of the Giants, has sent Jake Levy, Jewish pitcher, to the Hartford club of the Eastern league under option.

A lot of ball players look good when their club is leading, or trailing by five or six runs, but the real stars are the fellows who stand out in a 1 to 0 battle.

Vance Graber, outfielder with the Milwaukee club of the American association, has been purchased by the Springfield club of the Western association.

Syracuse university has an unusual baseball schedule this year in that 18 of its 25 games are away from home. It opened the season April 4 and closes May 29.

Paul McCullough, pitcher for Toledo club of the American association, has been sent to the Minneapolis team of the association for the balance of the 1928 campaign.

Ed Crowley, captain of the Georgia Tech eleven last year, and baseball star, has quit school and is expected to report to the Washingtons soon. He plays third base.

Outfielder Clyde Barnhart of the Pirates stole two bases in the first five games of the season, which was the exact number that he purloined all last season in 108 games.

Sy Rosenthal, for whom the Louisville Colonels paid the Boston Red Sox $7,500 one year ago, has been sold to the Chattanooga club of the Southern association.

The St. Louis Cards have signed Kelly "Swede" Swenson, pitcher and captain of Kansas this year, to a contract and he will report when he graduates in June. Several big league clubs were after Swenson.

St. Paul has shipped Pitcher Jess Bream to York of NYP league. He was with Harrisburg last year and joins his old manager, Winn Clark, who switched from Harrisburg to York during the winter.

President Barnard of the American league has followed in the wake of Ban Johnson and is going to be a patron of the Blue Ridge league. He has promised to visit the circuit and witness some games this summer.

Donie Bush has selected Johnny Gooch to handle the spitball pitching of Burleigh Grimes and Johnny seems to be getting away with it in good style. This was a new worry for Bush, as Barney Dreyfus had not had a spitball on his team since they were ruled out, at least those who were not already using it at the time of the legislation.

EXCELLENT PROGRAM

After Musical Numbers, Guests Retired to Home of Mrs. Sam
Newman

(Contributed)

The Kappa Delphians attended their annual banquet last evening with the same punctiliousness as they do their study hours. But it was with real "heartiness," according to Shakespeare, that they brought their guests to last evening's entertainment knowing that they themselves were not conspicuously on the program.

The Archer banquet was wholesome, plentiful and very nicely laid.
The charming violin solo, "Melody,"
Charles G. Dawes, played by Miss Geraldine Kiebler, accompanied by one of our most sympathetic accompanists, Mrs. Walter F. Wieland, made the festive hour at Archer's meet the high standards of Delphians in their regard for artistic entertainment. A very insistent applause brought a response from Miss Kiebler and Mrs. Wieland in the form of a Spanish Serenade by Franz Lehr, equally well rendered and pleasurable.

Following the banquet, Mrs. W. C.
Rasch, president, on behalf of the social committee, Mrs. R. Strader, Mrs. E. C. Herzog, Mrs. S. S. Newman, chairman, invited the Delphian
Chapter and guests to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Newman for the remaining numbers on the program.

The evening opened with a musical number entitled "Sonatina" Opus
59 I by Kaulau, played by Master
Marion Newman; "Master" a conventional term now used because of his youth—but, a term surely to be used later as descriptive of his power over the keys of his chosen instrument, the piano.

In response to the plaudits, Marion played "Gade" by Schuman and one of his mother's studies "Melody of Love" by H. Engelmann. In all three compositions, Marion showed by his touch, technique and interpretation the work of his valued teacher,

Mrs. W. A. M. Johnstone.

Much pleasure was derived from the acceptance of the invitation of the Delphian Chapter by Mrs. Henry
J. Cohen and the reading of John Gakworthy's latest drama "Escape."
In the light of metropolitan criticism this drama stood second in the list of the most important serious plays of this season in Manhattan.

When Leroy Arnold lectured before the local Drama League a short time ago, he ranged the stage "setting" equal with anything he had an opportunity to visit during his intensive study in New York City during the holidays. This is due to Winthrop Ames whose stage productions receive honor from all critics.

Mrs. Cohen's reading of this drama, without the wonderful stage setting, did not fail in portraying the convict at various times a murderer, a thief, a beggar but throughout a gentleman.
While he succeeds in evading jailers yet he cannot dodge himself and in the final scene gives himself up to prevent a clergyman from shielding him by telling a lie. "His finer nature traps him."

Regular study at 607 Holly street,
Friday afternoon. Mrs. W. C. Rasch, leader.

TIBBETTS, REYNOLDS LEAD CANOE DERBY

Ball Club, Minn., Chippewa Indians,
Seem Destined to Win
Canoe Race

Guests of Honor at Supper at Chamber of Commerce
Last Night

The ninety-two mile run from Aitkin to Brainerd in the Mississippi River Canoe Derby was made in the record time of eight hours and eleven minutes by Ben Tibbetts and William Reynolds, Chippewa Indians of Ball Club, Minn. This is an average of more than eleven miles an hour and considering the fact that the last eight miles were made in "dead water" the time is remarkable.

James Tibbetts and Thomas Tibbetts of Bemidji finished in second place with the time of eight hours and fifteen minutes, Anderson and Hanson of Mankato placed third in eight hours and twenty-one minutes and Gustafson and Hendrickson of St. Cloud finished in the final money position in eight hours and thirty-two minutes.

Other contestants finished in the following order: Cahill and Peterson of Bemidji, 8:58; Johantgen and Winick of Minneapolis, 9:10; Bastien and Betts of Little Falls and Kisser and Germaine of Bemidji tied at 9:13; Wright and Irwin of Park Rapids, 9:15; Walin and Wold of Minneapolis, 9:22; and Barber and Barber of Minneapolis, 10:01.

Ben Tibbetts and Wm. Reynolds are now leading all contestants in total elapsed time by thirty-five minutes and unless they have a mishap are certain winners.

At Brainerd crowds lined the bank at Lum Park as the canoes scurried to the finish yesterday afternoon. The river broadens out into a bay and is called Rice Lake.

The geodetic survey may look all right on paper, said one of the boys, but it works out differently when one paddles around the thousands of crooks and curves in the Mississippi. For instance the distance by motor is 32 miles to Aitkin and by canoe measured 92 miles. The geodetic survey was exactly 37 miles off in the stretch between Brainerd and Aitkin. In some places it has been 50 miles off in 100 miles of paddling.

Tuesday Evening's Program
After the canoes were drydocked at Lum Park and the contestants had been taken to the Y. M. C. A. for their showers, they were taken to the Chamber of Commerce where the Elks Lodge furnished a supper served by the house and social committee of the lodge.

Prizes donated by business institutions of the city were awarded the first four teams to enter Brainerd. These prizes included $5 cash donated by the First National bank of Brainerd, $5 slicker by J. C. Penney Co., shirt by Rye Clothing Co., shirt by O. A. Peterson, sweater by O'Brien Mercantile Co., thermos bottle by Gruenhagen Co., cushion by Alderman Maghan, flashlight by Brainerd Electric Co.

Exalted Ruler Roland Jenkins was toastmaster and talks were given by Mayor Frank E. Little, R. E. Wyett, president of the Chamber of Commerce, George Sweet, District Deputy Dr. A. K. Cohen, Past District Deputy Walter F. Marcua, of Bemidji, Past Exalted Ruler J. J. Nolan, Judge Thayer Bailey of Bemidji, John A. Hoffbauer, and Tony Pleva of St. Paul.

Mr. Pleva announced that all contestants will be honored with medals the first team with a solid gold diamond medal, second team, gold medal, third and fourth teams, silver and the remaining contestants, bronze medals.

Following the banquet the derbyists heard the band concert at Lum Park and attended the dance which followed.

The defendant, Mr. Long, was the principal witness of the day. He occupied the stand the most of the morning and was followed by eight character witnesses. The defense concluded its case by noon.

Chester Wilson, assistant attorney general presented the state's argument to the jury the early part of the afternoon. F. E. Murphy, attorney for the defendant, started the defense's final argument to the jury at 2:45 p. m.

In the second trial of P. J. Long, Ironton legislator charged with receiving stolen property alleged embezzled by A. H. Proctor from the First National bank of Ironton, the jury was chosen complete and the opening address made by Assistant Attorney General Chester Wilson before noon adjournment yesterday.

In the afternoon the state put on the stand six witnesses and rested at 5 p. m. The jury was excused and a motion for dismissal argued by the attorneys, and denied by Judge Edward Freeman.

The state's witnesses included T. S. Nyhus, now cashier of the First National bank of Ironton; Carl E. Olson, bookkeeper of the bank; A. H. Proctor former cashier; Assistant Attorney General Walter F. Wieland; Sheriff Claus A. Theorin and Deputy Sheriff Charles W. Oberg.

He believes now it contained $10,000, but at the time Proctor was arrested he thought he had $12,000 in the package.

Proctor stated further that he told Long on about December 5, the day before Long went to St. Paul, to keep what was in the package safe. At that time too he had not told Long what really was in the package.

It is believed defense testimony and arguments will be concluded by Wednesday evening. The jury is composed of four women and eight men.

ROTARY ENJOYS FEAST OF MUSIC

Lillian Nipper Zelle, Violinist; Mildred Sanders, Cellist; Margaret Hicks Schmitt, Pianist

TRIO GAINS MUCH PRAISE

Ambitious Program Included Two Movements From the Arensky Trio and Liszt Composition

When Rotarian Walter H. Cobban of Shore Acres, Gull Lake, promised his fellow Rotarians a real treat in music and presented Lillian Nipper Zelle, violinist; Mildred Sanders, cellist and Margaret Hicks Schmitt, his niece, all of Minneapolis, who were heard in trio numbers and solos, he satisfied every music lover and Rotarians and their wives and friends were enraptured.

Of distinct individualism, the three artists nevertheless blended so perfectly in ensemble, that it seemed like one glorious instrument that breathed the varying shades of expression of two movements from the Arensky Trio and the tonal beauties of Liebestraum (Dreams of Love) of Liszt.

Mrs. Zelle, wife of Edgar Zelle, president of Minneapolis Rotary, graced the Minneapolis program last year at the time representatives of all Minnesota Rotary gathered to take action on the entertainment of International Rotary. Recently the tones of her violin were wafted over WCCO. She has a clear, vibrant tone and superb technique.

Miss Mildred Sanders is a pupil of Carlo Fischer and from him has gained a wonderful mastery of the cello. Her tones are clear and beautiful, her bowing a revelation and her mobile face reflects the spirit of the composition she plays.

Mrs. Margaret Hicks Schmitt is a pianist of wonderful ability, sympathetic in her accompaniments and also gifted with rare interpretation in her solo work. She played a "Romance" by Sibeliuss and "Country Garden" by Grainger.

Mrs. Zelle's numbers were "Adoration" by Borowski and "Frasquita" by Kreisler.

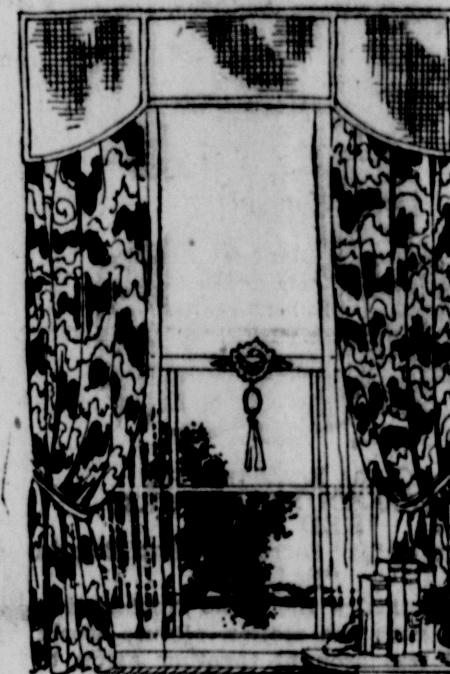

Miss Sanders' solos on the cello were "Andante" by Gluck and "Gavotte" by Lee.

There was incessant demand for encores, but Mrs. Zelle, as the wife of a Rotary president, knew just how much time her program occupied and regretfully had to decline. Had it been an evening program she would gladly have vouchsafed additional numbers.

At the conclusion the assemblage rose and expressed supreme pleasure and thanks for the splendid offering in music accorded them. The Rotary club presented each artist with a bouquet of roses.

TIBBETTS, REYNOLDS LEAD CANOE DERBY

Ball Club, Minn., Chippewa Indians,
Seem Destined to Win
Canoe Race

Guests of Honor at Supper at Chamber of Commerce
Last Night

The ninety-two mile run from Aitkin to Brainerd in the Mississippi River Canoe Derby was made in the record time of eight hours and eleven minutes by Ben Tibbetts and William Reynolds, Chippewa Indians of Ball Club, Minn. This is an average of more than eleven miles an hour and considering the fact that the last eight miles were made in "dead water" the time is remarkable.

James Tibbetts and Thomas Tibbetts of Bemidji finished in second place with a time of eight hours and fifteen minutes, Anderson and Hanson of Mankato placed third in eight hours and twenty-one minutes and Gustafson and Hendrickson of St. Cloud finished in the final money position in eight hours and thirty-two minutes.

Other contestants finished in the following order: Cahill and Peterson of Bemidji, 8:58; Johantgen and Winick of Minneapolis, 9:10; Bastien and Betts of Little Falls and Kisser and Geramime of Bemidji tied at 9:13; Wright and Irwin of Park Rapids, 9:15; Wallin and Wold of Minneapolis, 9:22; and Barber and Barber of Minneapolis, 10:01.

Ben Tibbetts and Wm. Reynolds are now leading all contestants in total elapsed time by thirty-five minutes and unless they have a mishap are certain winners.

At Brainerd crowds lined the bank at Lum Park as the canoes scurried to the finish yesterday afternoon. The river broadens out into a bay and is called Rice Lake.

The geodetic survey may look all right on paper, said one of the boys, but it works out differently when one paddles around the thousands of crooks and curves in the Mississippi. For instance the distance by motor is 32 miles to Aitkin and by canoe measured 92 miles. The geodetic survey was exactly 37 miles off in the stretch between Brainerd and Aitkin. In some places it has been 50 miles off in 100 miles of paddling.

Tuesday Evening's Program
After the canoes were drydocked at Lum Park and the contestants had been taken to the Y. M. C. A. for their showers, they were taken to the Chamber of Commerce where the Elks Lodge furnished a supper served by the house and social committee of the lodge.

Prizes donated by business institutions of the city were awarded the first four teams to enter Brainerd. These prizes included $5 cash donated by the First National bank of Brainerd, $5 slicker by J. C. Penney Co., shirt by Bye Clothing Co., shirt by O. A. Peterson, sweater by O'Brien Mercantile Co., thermos bottle by Gruenhagen Co., cushion by Alderman Maghan, flashlight by Brainerd Electric Co.

Exalted Ruler Rolland Jenkins was toastmaster and talks were given by Mayor Frank E. Little, R. E. Wyett, president of the Chamber of Commerce, George Sweet, District Deputy Dr. A. K. Cohen, Past District Deputy Walter F. Marcum, of Bemidji, Past Exalted Ruler J. J. Nolan, Judge Thayer Bailey of Bemidji, John A. Hoffbauer, and Tony Pleva of St. Paul.

Mr. Pleva announced that all contestants will be honored with medals the first team with a solid gold diamond medal, second team, gold medal, third and fourth teams, silver and the remaining contestants, bronze medals.

Following the banquet the derbyists heard the band concert at Lum Park and attended the dance which followed.

"GLORIOUS BETSY," starring Dolores Costello, is a Warner Bros. picture of this novel. Based on the play by Rida Johnson Young.

SYNOPSIS

Captain Jerome Bonaparte, brother of Napoleon and his ambassador to America, masquerades as a tutor and wins the love of the bewitching Betsy Patterson. At a banquet given in her home his identity is revealed and they are publicly betrothed. News is brought that Napoleon has been made Emperor. Jerome's aides fear the consequences of his engagement. They take Jerome aside and warn him against upsetting the Emperor's plans. Jerome asks Betsy to marry him that night. She agrees. Accompanied by Betsy's father and aunt the young couple set sail for France a few days later.

"In the wake of the boat the white foam sent out heavy spray that jumped and sparkled in the moonlight and then fell into a churning, delicate shade of light green that spread wider and wider until it lost itself in the deep blue of the all surrounding water. Bright, glistening phosphorous rode the waves that now but gently licked the great wooden hull. Far, far off they could see a dark moving object with little outcast rays of light that meant that another vessel, too, kept them company on their voyage.

"Isn't it lovely, Jerome?" Betsy looked up at her husband, spreading out her arms to the sea. "I'm so happy, so happy! I feel as though now everything is going to turn out all right. This lovely calm—it's just like what's going to happen when we reach France. We'll have a tremendous storm and then everything will grow peaceful and quiet and we'll be so content together, won't we?"

"I hope so, my darling," Jerome tried to make his voice reassuring, but a deep frown crossed his forehead, and he gazed bitterly out over the vast expanse of water.

"Oh, but you do believe that everything will be all right, don't you, dear? Law! Won't your great Emperor be surprised to learn that we are married! But I'm going to make him love me just as much as you do." Betsy nodded her head with great conviction.

"Of course you will," Jerome agreed, but his acquiescence was only half hearted. He had seen his brother under so many similar situations and knew so well their outcome. Napoleon, indeed, loved beautiful women, but he realized his weakness and controlled it to some extent in himself. But in others it was unforgeable.

Ah, how happy, how glorious it had all sounded. If only Napoleon had not set his heart on this alliance with Württemberg. But perhaps things might turn out all right after all. Betsy had so wanted to face the Emperor—to make him accept her as Jerome's wife. And St. Pierre had forced him into this journey because of Napoleon's commands, but, too, he had assured him that the Emperor might be brought to listen to reason when his own brother pleaded with him. Perhaps St. Pierre and Betsy were right. He sighed.

Again silently they stood and watched the sparkle of the moonlight as it laid a long path of shimmering, shimmering silver across the water.

And so for days on end they traveled, watching always anxiously for the sight of land. At last one morning they awoke early, roused by the sudden calm that seemed to have descended upon them during the night. The frigate no longer pitched and tossed beneath them. Instead, it rolled slowly and easily from side to side as though it rested on calm water. The passengers hurried into their clothes and out on deck to see where they had landed.

Jerome and Betsy stood leaning over the top rail, arm in arm, their capes blowing about them in the early morning breeze. St. Pierre, Dufresne and DeLangue were also ready up and about, waiting for the small boat to be got ready to carry them ashore. Even Miss Massenbird came out of her cabin, still somewhat shaky and white of face, but breathing great sighs of relief. The Major appeared, followed by the Captain, his face reddened to an almost apoplectic state by the salt air.

"We're ready to lower the boat at your convenience, sir," the Captain said to St. Pierre.

"Lower away," St. Pierre ordered. "We shall be ready to leave now at any moment. The envoys should be waiting us at the docks." The sailors were already at work preparing to lower the boat. The slight shock a chill through Betsy's heart, but she smiled bravely. Amidst the noise and confusion the three emperors prepared for their departure across the harbor to Bordeaux, where they were to meet the ambassadors of Napoleon for instructions.

"You will do your best for us, St. Pierre," Jerome pleaded. "Explain the situation and ask that we may land immediately and journey to Paris for an audience with my brother."

"I can only obey the commands of my Emperor," St. Pierre bowed and saluted.

The sailors harnessed the gangplank, with its long row of steps leading down the side of the boat, tightly to the dock. Below, the little vessel bobbed up and down on the smooth waters.

"We are ready," St. Pierre turned, motioning to his two companions. "Adieu, Sirs," he saluted Jerome. "Adieu, Monsieur," he bowed to the Major. "Mesdames, adieu. We will return as soon as possible, believe me." He started to the gangplank and disappeared down the steps, followed by Dufresne and DeLangue.

Betsy and her father, Jerome and Miss Massenbird, all leaned over the rail to watch the departure of the small boat. They could see the sailors pushing off and then, dipping their oars lightly in unison, skimming swiftly over the waters towards the port.

About noon a light fog began to settle down over the harbor. The outlines of the coast became more faint and indistinct. The frigate tossed uneasily in the gloom that was already beginning to surround it.

The booming sounds of the waves as they broke against the walls of the harbor seemed to swell and grow louder. By the afternoon nothing could be distinguished except dark shapes and bulky forms of the fortifications. Even the tiny sails of the fishermen were lost to sight.

Betsy and Jerome once more stood at the railing watching anxiously for some sign of the return of their envoys. But the fog only seemed to be trying to increase their anxiety, for it remained thick, veiling everything in its white mist.

"I can't see anything yet, Jerome," Betsy brushed her hand across her tired eyes as though to clear her vision. "Ever since this fog has settled down I have been straining to pierce the mist. Do you think we will be able to land tonight?"

Jerome shook his head. "I do not know, cherie. If St. Pierre sends me word from Napoleon in time. But even if the word does come tonight we might have trouble in making the port in all this fog. I do not land tonight, however, then surely it will be tomorrow."

"Tomorrow!" Betsy exclaimed. "Yes, certainly. St. Pierre and Dufresne will have returned from your brother before tomorrow."

"I hope so, Betty," "There, now, dear, you're worrying—I can see it in your eyes," she flung her arms about Jerome's neck and kissed him. "Why, can't you see how wonderful it is—how really wonderful! I reckon I'm the luckiest girl in the whole world."

Jerome stifled a sigh, but he nodded and tried to smile. "Of course, Betty, dear, and I'm happy to think that you are happy."

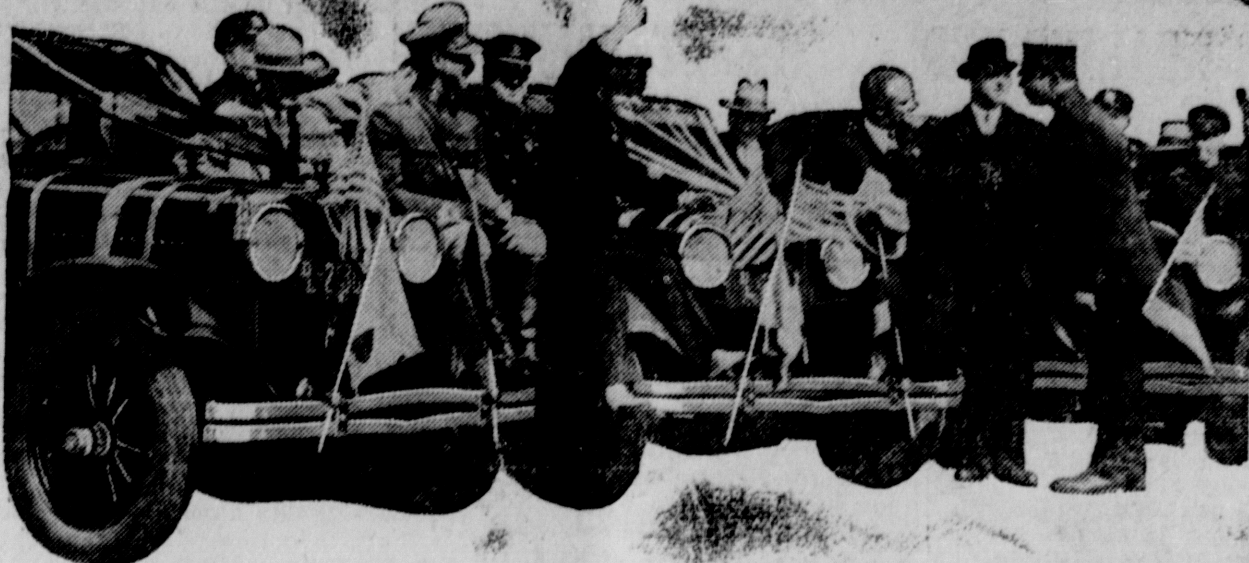

"Oh, but you're not putting your whole heart into those words, Jerome," Betty scolded. "I'm sure you're only worried about having to introduce me to that great, splendid brother of yours, with all his title. But you needn't worry. I shall be the very height of propriety. I shall conduct myself with all the grace of a court lady."

"My darling," Jerome unfolded his wife in his arms. "You are greater than any woman who ever stepped into any court. No, dear, I am not worrying about that, in the least."

"Then what is worrying you," Betty insisted. "You look so somber and sad. And I think you should be so glad to go back to your home, and see your people, and all Paris that you must have known so well before you came to America. And I warn you—I shall be frightfully jealous of your old sweethearts."

CLARA BOW IN THE PARAMOUNT PICTURE
"RED HAIR"

Stars of "It" Surround Clara Bow in "Red Hair"

Practically the same combination that gave the motion picture world "It" was brought together again to make the new romantic-comedy "Red Hair," with Clara Bow as the star.

"Red Hair," which will show at the Lyceum theatre tonight also Thursday and Friday is taken from the book by Elton Glyn, also the author of "It."

"Red Hair" is a story of an American manicurist of the typical flapper type who might be accused of "digging" a bit until the right man comes along. The "right man" in this case is Lane Chandler.

 "GLORIOUS BETSY," starring Dolores Costello, is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel. Based on the play by Rida Johnson Young.

SYNOPSIS

Captain Jerome Bonaparte, brother of Napoleon and his ambassador to America, masquerades as a tutor and wins the love of the bewitching Betsy Patterson. At a banquet given in her home his identity is revealed and they are publicly betrothed. News is brought that Napoleon has been made Emperor. Jerome's aides fear the consequences of his engagement. They take Jerome aside and warn him against upsetting the Emperor's plans. Jerome asks Betsy to marry him that night. She agrees. Accompanied by Betsy's father and aunt the young couple set sail for France a few days later.

"In the wake of the boat the white foam sent out heavy spray that jumped and sparkled in the moonlight and then fell into a churning, delicate shade of light green that spread wider and wider until it lost itself in the deep blue of the all surrounding water. Bright, glistening phosphorous rode the waves that now but gently licked the great wooden bulk. Far, far off they could see a dark moving object with little outcast rays of light that meant that another vessel, too, kept them company on their voyage.

"Isn't it lovely, Jerome?" Betsy looked up at her husband, spreading out her arms to the sea. "I'm so happy, so happy! I feel as though now everything is going to turn out all right. This lovely calm—it's just like what's going to happen when we reach France. We'll have a tremendous storm and then everything will grow peaceful and quiet and we'll be so content together, won't we?"

"I hope so, my darling," Jerome tried to make his voice reassuring, but a deep frown crossed his forehead, and he gazed bitterly out over the vast expanse of water.

"Oh, but you do believe that everything will be all right, don't you, dear? Law! Won't your great Emperor be surprised to learn that we are married! But I'm going to make him love me just as much as you do," Betsy nodded her head with great conviction.

"Of course you will," Jerome agreed, but his acquiescence was only half hearted. He had seen his brother under so many similar situations and knew so well their outcome. Napoleon, indeed, loved beautiful women, but he realized his weakness and controlled it to some extent in himself. But in others it was unforgeable.

CLARA BOW IN THE PARAMOUNT PICTURE "RED HAIR"

Stars of "It" Surround Clara Bow in "Red Hair"

Practically the same combination that gave the motion picture world "It" was brought together again to make the new romantic comedy "Red Hair," with Clara Bow as the star.

"Red Hair," which will show at the Lyceum theatre tonight also Thursday and Friday is taken from the book by Elmer Glyn, also the author of "It."

"Red Hair" is a story of an American manufacturer of the typical flapper type who might be accused of "digging" a bit until the right man comes along. The "right man" in this case is Lane Chandler.

Bell Covers for Plants

In a vegetable garden in England bell-shaped glass covers are used, one for each plant. They are more successful in most respects than hotbeds and no permanent structure is needed.
